Editorial

Greetings to you from NSNIS, Patiala

The first article covers general information of Nutrition to Improve Sports Performance.

The Pandemic of Covid19 has evolved a new world of online consultations for medical concerns. Rehabilitation is one such area which has opened new channels. Emerging trends in this area have been discussed in second article.

The third article is a review on aerobic capacity and anaerobic power demand of fencers.

A comparative study of physical, physiological and anthropometric profile of young male tribal and non tribal football & hockey players is presented in detail in the fourth article
